Hyperlocal maps at Metro stations help commuters head to destinations, explore nearby places of interest

MIND THE MAP

Riders can scan QR codes on map to find way

To help commuters explore nearby places of interest, the Bangalore Metro Corporation Limited (BMRCL) is now installing hyperlocal maps at all the Metro stations.

The maps are displayed at the entrances and exits of Metro stations and will have important attractions and shopping places in the vicinity of Metro stations identified.

Metro authorities said this will help the commuters to navigate to their destination quickly. The maps come with a QR code option where commuters can scan the code and use it digitally as well. The maps also give specific information about nearby government buildings, hotels, schools, ATMs, cafes, banks, hospitals, station entry/exit, nearest railway line and the like.

"We have two important objectives in displaying the maps in the Metro stations. Firstly, commuters can know about the areas surrounding particular Metro stations along with places of interest nearby. Secondly, it will guide the commuters to head to their desired locations. Earlier, we had mini maps showing the commuter was at a particular place but now we are going for a detailed map. These new maps will provide a lot more information to the public. This will be helpful for the tourists too. They can scan QR code and then navigate to their destinations digitally," BMRCL chief public relations officer Yashavanth Chavan told Bangalore Mirror.

From unattended public dustbins to garbage pickup vehicles that never arrive, dysfunctional streetlights to pothole-ridden roads, all your grievances will now have a one-stop solution.

The One City One App, a citizen utility app, being developed by the Bengaluru Smart City Limited (BSCL) will help citizens report grievances to various government agencies at the click of a button.

As part of Smart Cities Mission, the app will provide information on various civic agencies and other infrastructure services.

It will bring together as many as 14 major government agencies including Bangalore Development Authority (BDA), Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB), Namma Metro, Bangalore Electricity Supply Company Limited (BESCOM) and traffic police, to mention a few, to a single digital grievance redressal platform.

"The currently available apps for citizen services have different interfaces for different agencies. Moreover, all the agencies have different numbers that citizens reach out to, to register a grievance. In One City One App, citizens will have a one-stop solution to raise their complaints, which will be communicated to respective agencies and resolved by

At ARTPARK's challenge, students design janitorial robots

Participants competed to design the most efficient bot that could clean the fastest

Regular maintenance of public toilets in the city is a major pain point. Students from different colleges, who participated in the robotics challenge conducted by AI & Robotics Technology Park (ARTPARK) held at IISc Bengaluru, seemed to have hit upon a solution to this with the janitorial robots they designed.

In the pandemic area, the need for contactless services peaked with more and more spaces becoming inaccessible to humans. Against that background, the projects by college students made a case for robots aiding janitorial services especially in public toilets.

The challenged saw 134 applications from across the country. Tasks were limited to clearing rubbish on the floor followed by cleaning the washbasin and the washbasin counter using a sanitising liquid. Four teams Cerberus, Gryffindors, Giga Robotics, and Robo Jyothians made it to the finals. To build the robots, ARTPARK gave each team a grant of Rs 4 lakh.

The winning team Griffindor from PSG College of Technology, Coimbatore said their robot is capable of doing major janitorial tasks like picking up trash and dropping it in the dustbin, using sanitiser to clean surfaces, mopping, and drying. "We have also added object-direction and autonomous navigation that would enhance the workings of the robot autonomously. We spent a lot of time in design. This is our fourth design," said a team member.

The team also wanted to keep the robots cost-effective. "While most robots take around 30 minutes, our robot could complete all janitorial tasks in 10 minutes. We used three lithium-polymer batteries that added a battery life of 1.5 hours," said a team member. The robot was built at the cost of Rs 3 lakh.

While all robots were able to meet the requirements, the contestants were judged on various parameters of efficiency and functionality.

> "During covid, the virus came from surface areas. Sanitation workers were exposed to these hazards
> – Umakant Soni, ARTPARK

"We decided to build a robot using a scissor-based manipulator. We have tried to build a robot with the least amount of power, motors and moving parts," said Suraj Bonagiri from IIT Hyderabad (Team Cereberus). The robot was built at the cost of Rs 3.2 lakh.

A team member from the National Institute of Technology, Surathkal (Team Giga Robotics) said they designed a robot with a mobile robotic base along with a mounted robotic arm that can be used to pick and drop trash. "We have also attached a scrubber under the robot which will be used to clean stains. The robot sprays the cleaning liquid and cleans the surfaces, the team member said. This robot was built at an estimated cost of Rs 3.5 lakh.

"During covid, the spread of the virus originated from surface areas. Out of 5 million sanitation workers, 2 million sanitation workers were exposed to various hazards. The challenge was started to create solutions to this problem," said Umakant Soni, Co-founder & CEO, ARTPARK.

CREDAI calls out labour pains

Body writes to Labour Commissioner, questions computation, usage of labour cess

Confederation of Real Estate Developers Association of India (CREDAI) recently wrote to Labour Commissioner Akram Pasha regarding the issuance of notices against builders regarding upfront payment of labour cess. It also brought up some issues, including the method of computation and usage of labour cess.

CREDAI Bengaluru is a premier body of Real Estate developers in Karnataka, acting as a bridge between policy makers and the developers. It stated in its letter that several of its members have been receiving notices for the payment of labour cess and other charges.

"With the economy slowly coming back to normal, we, as developers, too are slowly limping back to normalcy. When such is the situation, mechanical issuance of demand notices without any substance and actual instances that arise for payment leads to the need to challenge the same at the High Court. This is not only a waste of our money and resources, but of your department's and the court's too," the letter stated.

Builders and developers need a lot of assistance post covid, CREDAI says

Further it stated the High Court has stated labour cess cannot be charged upfront at the time of application but has to be collected in instalments as is insisted by the statute.

"Despite the said judgement, our members are still receiving demand notices for payment of labour cess upfront. Such demand notices are not only illegal but ex facie contemptuous of the above referenced High Court judgement," it stated.

The Supreme Court stated that labour cess must be calculated only on the cost of civil construction and not on the entire construction cost. CREDAI demanded to be included in the Karnataka Building and Workers Welfare Board aka the 'Welfare Board'.

Many kids will enter classrooms for first time; teachers gear up to inculcate social, emotional skills

As the ongoing summer vacation approaches an end, city schools are gearing up for a different kind of challenge. They are preparing to welcome children who will be entering classrooms for the first time.

School authorities say that social and emotional skills which are usually instilled in nursery and kindergarten will now be the responsibility of first-grade educators and they are doing their best to equip these teachers with skills other than academics.

"We are conducting training and motivational classes for the primary teachers. Many kids this year will start school for the very first time and we want to be prepared for them. These are the children who have not attended LKG or UKG in offline mode but will directly join Class 1," explained MN Natesh Kumar, Principal of Gurukul International School.

He added that they were organising a two-month bridge course for the kids, apart from training teachers on how to address these children. The course will begin on May 16 and will focus on basics that children might have missed in online sessions, he said.

Schools say that the transition from at-home learning to classroom-learning is a big one and while some are expecting to spend the majority of the first week of schooling on establishing school routines, others are focusing on making the school environment joyful and attractive for the first-timers.

> –Madhusudan Babu, principal

"We are directing the teachers to steer away from academics for the first few days with these kids. They will be starting with other activities such as drawing, singing, dancing, etc. These children have never been to school and thus, we do not want to pressurise them too much. We want to attract them to the school environment. They should feel excited and happy to be in the school," said the principal of a city-based school.

Teachers are also being trained to deal with separation anxiety that these kids will face for the very first time and schools are also planning to involve parents in the process for an easy transition.

"We are conducting training classes for the children from economically weaker sections of society. These are kids are aged five years and above but have not attended classes as schools went online," said Madhusudan Babu, Principal, Little Flower High School.

He explained that some of the children did not have access to mobile phones to attend online sessions. "We are teaching them the basics so that they can be integrated into the curriculum starting May 16."

Jurisdictional Assistant Commissioner of Police (ACPs) will be the nodal officers who would monitor smooth enforcement of cases pertaining to animal cruelty in the city reported henceforth. A circular, dated May 7 issued from the office of police commissioner addressed to the Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (SPCA), states that the sub-divisional ACP is the nodal officer for any aggrieved party to approach in case if there is difficulty reporting a case regarding animal cruelty.

"SPCA members had written to the Principal Secretary and the police commissioner's office to identify and commission a nodal officer for animal cruelty cases. Earlier, there was no official point of contact within the police department for inquiries or filing complaints pertaining to animal cruelty cases. Usually, those who report crimes would take the help of animal activists or animal welfare officials from Animal Husbandry Department, CUPA or SPCA and then approach the police to file a complaint," says Arun Prasad, an animal activist. "Now anyone who witness an instance of animal cruelty have a place to go and report which would be the Assistant Commissioner's Office (ACP) where the ACP will be the nodal official who has to take a call on the case," Prasad added.

According to this circular, any one can even report a case of animal cruelty by dialling the police control room number 112 and report the crime. They can also inform an animal welfare officer or an animal activist about the same if they do not know how to escalate the matter to higher authorities and the highest authority would be the nodal officer ACP who would ensure that the complaint or the case reaches a logical conclusion.

Acid attacker injured in police shootout

The Karnataka police have allegedly shot an acid attacker on the leg while he was attempting to escape on Saturday.

According to police sources, the acid attacker Nagesh, who was absconding, had managed to escape from the police since April 28.

The shootout took place when the police were bringing him back to Karnataka from Tiruvannamalai, Tamil Nadu.

The police allegedly shot Nagesh on the right leg while he attempted to escape from them on the pretext of attending nature's call.

He has been admitted to a hospital. The police said the accused had attacked police constable Mahadevaiah while the latter caught him while trying to escape.

The Karnataka police had arrested Nagesh on Friday in Tiruvannamalai. He had disguised himself as a religious seer.

Motorists wonder if Palike forgot about service roads below railway overbridge near Baiyappanahalli

Chief Engineer says he thought all the work was completed but we found that 300-metre stretches on either side of overbridge near Baiyappanahalli are yet to be asphalted

It appears Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike's (BBMP's) Road and Infrastructure Department has forgotten the existence of the service roads below the railway overbridge near Baiyappanahalli.

The much-delayed overbridge was opened unofficially more than six months ago but the contractor is yet to asphalt 300-metre-long stretches on either sides of the railway flyover ramp leading towards Old Madras Road.

The contractor stopped work after metalling the stretch.

Since then no effort was invested to asphalt it. The neglect has become a cause of inconvenience for motorists, especially those on two-wheeler riding towards residential areas such as Cox Town, Doddigunta and Fraser Town.

"There is no problem for commuters on the half of the road that was asphalted. The problem lies in the 300-metre stretches yet to be asphalted. Two-wheeler riders are more vulnerable to road accidents while commuting via this stretch. I have seen a few two-wheeler riders get injured when their bikes skidded on this stretch," said Manjunath Prasad, a resident of Kathalipalya near Kalpalli Burial Ground.

Shut for a long time, dysfunctional now

Residents of Jeevanahalli and nearby areas had already suffered a lot when the road was closed for the construction of a ramp for the overbridge as it took more than a year.

"We expected some relief when the road was opened to the public but were shocked to see that only half of the road was asphalted. I demand that BBMP authorities must take measures to complete the asphalting work for the benefit of hundreds of two-wheeler riders who depend on this road to reach Old Madras Road," said Krishna Murthy, a resident of Jeevanahalli.

> "I thought the entire stretch was asphalted. I will attend to this problem.
> – BS Prahlad, Chief Engineer, BBMP

There is no problem for the motorists who use the railway overbridge to reach Old Madras Road from Maruthi Seva Nagar and other areas or proceed towards Old Madras Road from these areas.

The road is asphalted between Old Madras Road and the ramp of the railway overbridge.

"The stretch which is yet to be asphalted has become a dangerous zone for two-wheeler riders who ride at a high speed from Old Madras Road. The metalled stretch is not safe for two-wheelers," said Naveen R, a two-wheeler rider. There is a danger of vehicles skidding on this stretch of the road.

BBMP Chief Engineer (Road and Infrastructure) BS Prahlad told Bangalore Mirror that he would look into the matter. "I thought the entire stretch was asphalted. I will attend to this problem," said Prahlad.

Namma Metro's guide to Bengaluru

Sandeep Adiga, a regular Metro user said, "We have a linear map of Metro stations inside the train. However, once we were out of the train, there was no such facility. Unlike road travel where we get to see nearby areas, Metro travel is a bit different due to elevated, at times underground, and swift travel. So, once we reach the Metro station, we definitely need guidance if we are new to the place. I hope the maps help in that way."

BMRCL officials said the maps will be definitely helpful for those who are non-residents or even locals who are not familiar with the place.

"I stay in JP Nagar and have not visited the Nagasandra Metro station area. So, when I got down at Nagasandra station, the map was quite helpful in guiding me to nearby places," said D Satheesh, a college student.

Many recall the huge maps of Bengaluru on display at Kempegowda Bus Station in Majestic. During pre-Google map days, physical maps were the only way to guide people through the locality. The huge map near the entrance of KBS was such a big hit that scores of people would be trying to locate the map at any given point of time. The popularity of those maps were such that back then the BMTC tried to replicate the same at the bus stations also by providing the maps with indication that a commuter was at a particular location in Bengaluru.

A BMTC official said, "Google maps has changed the way we see maps or rather many people now understand the locations and directions as they are hooked on the maps while driving. However, in those days, physical maps were in great demand. There used to be multiple counters in KBS platforms where the maps were being sold; map selling was a good business though the digital maps literally killed the demand for physical maps."

Property deals to suit all budgets on Kanakapura Road

Great connectivity, mega infra projects make area a hotspot

Property buyers belong to different categories. People tend to buy property that suit their budget. Property developers in Kanakapura Road not only offer sites of different sizes but also those suiting various budget options. This is the reason as to why one can see a lot of developments on Kanakapura Road. New landmarks are being added with a lot of high rise buildings dotting the landscape along with tailor-made properties coming up all along the highway. Many properties have green surroundings which have turned out to be the biggest highlight. These factors have aided the growth of Kanakapura Road.

In the last few years, there have been a number of mega infrastructure projects that are aiding the growth of localities in and around Kanakapura Road. The NICE Road and Metro connectivity has helped people to move around Kanakapura Road as reaching the city as well as outskirts has become quite easy.

Those staying in and around Kanakapura Road prefer to take the NICE road to head out of the city as it connects Kanakapura Road to Bannerghatta and Hosur roads on one side and Mysuru, Magadi and Tumakuru roads on the other side. Those with offices in CBD and other parts of the city prefer to take the NICE Road where the green line connects Kanakapura to the city.

Added to this, there are a number of BMTC bus services with good frequency and other transport modes like cabs and autos for people to easily travel in and around the area. The Metro line (green line that connects Nagasandra to Kanakapura road with interachange option at Majestic to head towards MG Road Baiyyappanahali or Mysuru road) is one of the important milestones aiding the growth. In the future when the airport is connected by a Metro line, residents of Kanakapura Road can hop on to Metro trains and head towards the airport (by changing trains). The Metro has greatly helped the public to avoid the traffic on the ground.

Kanakapura Road will get another big push if the four laning work is done. Though, the work is currently moving at a slow pace, NHAI officials say that work will resume in full swing shortly. As per the plan, the highway will be four-laned till Kankapura and then a two-lane highway with paved shoulders will be developed till Karnataka-Tamil Nadu border. This road is also preferred by travellers heading towards Coimbatore and beyond.

No wonder then, that Kanakapura Road is a preferred destination for Bengalureans looking to buy property.

Flex it out: Same circular, different BBMP chief

New chief commissioner issues order on banner removal. Will they come down?

Y Maheswara Reddy

KAUSHIK JN

There are hardly any roads in the city not decorated by flexes or banners

If there is one thing that refuses to change in the city, it is the adamant nature of politicians and social organisations when it comes to banners and flexes. Try as the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner may to issue orders prohibiting illegal banners, these eyesores just manage to cling on to the cityscape.

And for BBMP Chief Commissioners, it seems to have become just a matter of habit to issue orders directing zonal commissioners to remove illegal flexes and banners. Following up on the order doesn't seem to be on the agenda.

Sai Datta, a social activist, who played a key role in filing a public interest litigation (PIL) in the High Court is amazed by this apathy.

"I have been trying to contact the authorities concerned in the BBMP to get the flexes and banners put up near the BBMP Head Office removed. No one is responding to my calls. If the BBMP is not serious about getting these banners removed, what is the use of BBMP Chief Commissioner issuing a circular on that?" Sai Datta says.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Giri Nath had issued the latest such circular on May 10. The Chief Commissioner, in the circular, states that the petition pending in the High Court on illegal flexes may come for hearing and there may be a need to submit data on the measures taken to remove them.

"Zonal commissioners must remove the flexes and banners put up illegally. Zonal commissioners must file first information reports (FIRs) against those responsible for illegal banners and flexes or buntings under Karnataka Open Places (Prevention of Disfigurement) Act, 1981 and submit a report on the measures taken to remove the flexes and banners or buntings within three days,'' the BBMP Chief Commissioner said in the circular.

> "If the BBMP is not serious about getting these banners removed, what is the use of BBMP Chief Commissioner issuing a circular on that?
> –Sai Datta, activist who played key role in filing PIL in High Court

In the past

In August 2018, the then BBMP Commissioner N Manjunath Prasad had issued an order to remove flexes and the BBMP staff managed to remove around 5,000 of them. As usual, in no time banners resurfaced on the city landscape. Then the BBMP Commissioner issued an order in February 2020 directing all joint commissioners to remove the flexes, banners and also metal structures of hoardings.

As expected, the BBMP ward engineers became complacent after removing a few metal structures, banners and flexes. The previous BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta had also directed Zonal Commissioners on February 10, 2022 to remove illegal banners and flexes but nothing has changed.

Coming down heavily on the authorities for not implementing the High Court ban order, K Mathai, former KAS officer, suggested that the BBMP Chief Commissioner act tough against the officials for not implementing the ban order. "The Chief Commissioner should suspend or transfer or even prosecute BBMP Zonal Commissioners or BBMP ward engineers for not following his orders. Circulars are issued, but the menace of flexes and banners continue to haunt the city," said Mathai.

An assurance

Meanwhile, Tushar Giri Nath assured BM that he would look into the matter. When informed that a few banners had been put up around the BBMP Head Office, the Chief Commissioner said he would ensure that all will follow the ban.

'Work from office' exodus at WhiteHat Jr

Over 800 employees of edtech startup WhiteHat Jr have resigned in the last two months after being asked to 'work from office', a media report said.

WhiteHat Jr is owned by edtech giant Byju's, which acquired the startup firm for $300 million in 2020.

On March 18, 2022, in a company-wide email, the startup asked remote employees to return to respective office locations within a month's time. The sales, coding and math teams were asked to work from Gurugram, Mumbai and Bengaluru offices, respectively, according to a report in Inc42.

This has led to en masse resignations. According to Inc42 report, over 800 full-time employees across the company, including from sales, coding, and math teams, have voluntarily resigned from the startup as they didn't want to relocate to their respective office locations.

"As part of our back-to-work drive, most of our Sales and Support employees have been asked to report to Gurgaon and Mumbai offices from April 18. We have made exceptions for medical and personal exigencies and have offered relocation assistance as required. Our teachers will continue to work from home," WhiteHat Jr is quoted as saying in the report. –ANI

CM to take call on Davos visit

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Saturday said he will soon take a call on his visit to Swiss ski resort town of Davos, to take part in World Economic Forum's Annual Meeting.

He said he will have to decide on the days and schedule considering the upcoming Rajya Sabha and Legislative Council polls, also the possibility of local body polls being announced. "I will decide regarding the Davos visit today. I'm one among the two Chief Ministers who have got invitation for Davos, it is an important event, but as these elections have come now, for how many days I should go, when to go, I will decide," Bommai told reporters in response to a question.

Bommai and Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister Y S Jaganmohan Reddy are expected to be in Davos for the World Economic Forum's Annual Meeting 2022 from May 22-26 while Maharashtra minister and chief minister Uddhav Thackeray's son Aaditya Thackeray as also Telangana minister and state chief minister K Chandrashekar Rao's son KT Rama Rao would be there. –PTI

The app will also have a feedback option that will enable escalation in case the grievance raised is not resolved by respective authorities within two days.

"There will be defined metrics within the app so that the grievances reach respective authorities such as ward engineers or health inspectors. If the complaint is not attended to, there will be escalation metrics too. Moreover, if you raise a ticket, you can track it till its closure," said a BSCL official.

According to BSCL, the app will also enable citizens to have easy access to the various applications needed for day-to-day needs. Information on upcoming events in the city, public services such as nearby hospitals, pharmacies, government offices, tourist places, community halls, toilets, schools, ATMs, food joints, EV charging stations, and the like, will also be provided.

The app will guide visitors to various utilities and infrastructure facilities in the city. Key contacts such as covid-19 war room, BBMP, police, health service providers and fire department can also be accessed through the platform.

"Bengaluru is an international city. Oftentimes, a lot of people who land here from foreign countries feel lost. The app will help them navigate the city with ease. It will guide them not just to government offices, but will also keep them informed about various infrastructure facilities such as petrol stations, hotels, EV charging points, etc. All will be integrated into one app," said Sugur.

The app will tentatively be launched in two months along with the Integrated Command and Control Centre (ICCC) project.

"We are in the process of developing the app. We are looking at an application that is convenient to the users with a user-friendly look and feel. The majority of city dwellers have mobile phones, and we want to make use of this. We are also planning to connect with private mobility companies so that users can avail these services too," added the official.

He had won the event in 2005 in Helsinki as well apart from the gold in the Athens Olympics in 2004. The 40-year-old is the Brand Ambassador of the 14th TCS World 10K run to be held in the city on Sunday.

This is the great athlete's first visit to India but he's had some taste of an Indian wedding already. "My wife Daynise is part Indian, and she wanted to celebrate her heritage at our wedding. So we had an American wedding one day and the next day, we had an Indian wedding. It's so flavourful and delicious, from vegetables to meat; a definite plus for me," revealed Gatlin.

Gatlin began his career a little earlier than Usain Bolt. But as they made headlines with their record breaking runs, their rivalry became part of athletics folklore. Be it the 100m, 200m or the 4x100m relay at the Olympic Games, World championships, Diamond League or other major meets, the world watched in awe as the two lined up alongside and set the tracks on fire.

"After we left the sport, there was a realisation that Bolt helped me become a better athlete, and vice-versa. Bolt even went on record to say that I pushed him, especially at a point when he felt like the sport did not excite him. It was exciting for me to go up against Bolt. Most other athletes may have feared Bolt's consistent success on the world stage, but this only made me want to grow as an athlete and as a person. It made me work harder," said Gatlin in a Media inter-action prior to the TCS World 10K event.

"We're so used to having a marquee athlete. But now we have the opportunity to sit back and really watch athletes blossom and kind of nurture them, cheer them on, see exactly what they can do. There is no shortage of contenders in the current era. Just look at the 100m 2022 Tokyo Olympics race. Lamont Marcell Jacobs claimed an upset victory, becoming the first Italian to take the most coveted title in athletics in a European record time of 9.80 seconds. But almost from lane one to lane eight, it was anybody's race. For me, that's exciting," Gatlin said.

"Of course, we want to see two titans clash at the top. But to have eight athletes at the start line and not know who will win... it puts me on the edge of my seat. I want to see a star being born... that's what you're going to see," he added.

Gatlin urged young Indian athletes to take inspiration from the Tokyo Olympics javelin throw champion Neeraj Chopra. "I've talked to many Indian athletes through social media. I tell them that if you use every resource at your disposal to try and achieve your dream, you won't feel like you've let yourself down. Do not ever think that you cannot be successful because of where you come from. India now has a javelin throw Olympic champion in Neeraj Chopra. Four years ago, everyone in this room would have thought this was an impossible dream. But now, Neeraj is an inspiration to every athlete in this country," said the four-time gold medalist at the World Championship.

> We're so used to having a marquee athlete. Now we have the opportunity to sit back and watch athletes blossom and nurture them, cheer them on, see exactly what they can do –Justin Gatlin

"It's not an even playing field when it comes to coaching or having the right resources. But, I truly believe that there are Indian athletes out there who have the ability to be gold medalists. They just need to be able to go out there and really learn their sport," Gatlin opined.

"This is the 14th year and the success in this event is here in Bengaluru. Be your biggest fan and biggest critic and believe in yourself. Run for yourself and run for your cause. Events like these are very important," said Gatlin

He was banned twice for doping offences. Talking about it, he said that the two doping bans imposed on him turned out to be a "blessing and a curse". Being forced to sit out motivated Gatlin to extend his career for an impressively long period of time. "I think about it (the doping bans) - those are the 'what ifs' in my life. But I also feel that if I didn't have to serve those suspensions, I might not have had the motivation to stay on as an active sprinter for as long as I did. I may have quit after the 2008 Olympics. So it (doping bans) was a gift and a curse. It was a gift, as it showed my longevity, and dedication to the sport," Gatlin said.

"Now it's like almost a rebirth or restart for me, finding something new, a new passion, in the sport of track and field or sports in general. I didn't have much pressure growing up to be the no.1 athlete. I was able to take my time to evolve and grow and understand what it meant to be successful," he said, talking about his life post-retirement.

CBI traces Pakistan link in 2019 IPL betting racket

The Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) is conducting search operations in four cities in connection with an IPL betting racket involving a Pakistani national.

The searches are going on in Delhi, Jaipur, Hyederabad and another city. The agency has recovered a few incriminating documents during the raids so far.

The CBI has lodged an FIR against three persons who have been identified as Dileep Kumar, a resident of Delhi's Rohini area, and Gurram Satish and Gurram Vasu, both residents of Hyderabad. The trio allegedly influenced IPL matches in 2019 on the instruction of a Pakistani handler.

They were in touch with a Pakistani national named Waqas Malik, who used to call them frequently from across the border.

The accused had allegedly opened multiple bank accounts using forged documents and by bribing bank officials to route hawala money involved in the IPL betting racket.

"A reliable information was received about a network of individuals involved in cricket betting by influencing the outcomes of Indian Premier League (IPL) matches based on inputs received from Pakistan. They were cheating the general public by inducing them for betting," a CBI official said.

The official added that a part of the money received from the general public in India on account of such betting activities was shared with their associates based in foreign countries using hawala transactions. As per the information received, the said network of individuals was involved in cricket betting since 2013.

"The trio and others were in contact with one Pakistani suspect named Waqas Malik, who contacted Kumar and Satish and some unknown persons in India using a Pakistani number. They were all part of a network involved in illegal betting," the official said. —IANS

No walk in the park in Prakash Nagar

Vaishnavi Gopalraj
mybangaloremirror@timesgroup.com
TWEETS @BangaloreMIRROR

Broken-down equipment in a state of disuse. Rickety sitting areas with a roof precariously hanging over, about to collapse any second. Wires dangling in the open. Bathrooms with a foul stench, filled with pests everywhere.

These are some of the problems with the Gayatri Nagar Park in Prakash Nagar that is a civic woe. The residents are unable to use their favourite space to unwind because the local administration has not been addressing the community's grievances.

The park falls under Ward 98 and is part of the Rajajinagar constituency. It was built almost 30 years ago and in 2016, the park was redesigned to make it accessible to kids with disabilities. However, since then, no maintenance was done, and the situation became worse. Residents say the authorities are to blame. The equipment in the play area has been damaged for a long while but authorities have simply turned a blind eye and a deaf ear. The equipment installed for basic exercises have fallen into a state of disuse and residents can no longer work out in the park.

Children too find it difficult to use the playground as many pieces of equipment have been half-installed and those parts could make them fall or suffer injuries if they happen to climb over uneven terrain.

> "We are worried that exposed electric wires may be a hazard for kids playing – Sham Jujare S, a resident

"We are worried that exposed electric wires in these areas may create hazardous conditions for kids using the play area," said Sham Jujare S, a regular visitor to the park.

Residents in the area have also been experiencing many problems with the public bathrooms. "For one, they're not always as clean as they should be. The park has a serious pest problem which poses an unhealthy threat for the visitors," Gayathri, a senior citizen, told BM.

Another resident claimed that the roof of the sitting area is damaged and may collapse any moment on unsuspecting visitors.

According to them, reaching out the authorities has been an exercise in futility. Like most stories go, there is no accountability and civic heads have simply not responded to any of their pleas.

The roof is on the verge of collapsing; exercising equipment and children's play area need urgent repairs, say residents

DID YOU KNOW?

Tannery Road is located in the north-east region of Bengaluru. It is a four-km-long narrow road named after the tanneries of the British India period located at the end of the Road.
Tannery Road was officially renamed as Dr BS Ambedkar Road many years back, but it still is referred by its old name. It touches Fraser Town, Richards Town, Giddappa Block, Periyar Nagar and Pillanna Garden and is highly populated with a high density.
The tanneries were established during the British Raj, with the tanneries being located on the outskirts of the Bangalore Civil & Military Station, such that they were located at a safe distance from the posh areas of the Bangalore Cantonment.
Most of the buildings are 100 years or older, with some still carrying the insignia of the British Crown - the Lion and the Unicorn. In times gone by, people from the Tannery Road area were not allowed into the cantonment, and residents of the cantonment avoided Tannery Road.

where Bengalureans speak their mind

In this weather what is the one or two things you like to do and why?

Aditya Kamble, Student
This type of weather calls for photography which is a hobby of mine. There is a lot we can learn in such times and capture moments and make beautiful memories too.

KV Vaidyanthan, Executive Assistant
In this present weather, I make sure to wash my hands regularly to keep away from bacteria and viruses. I also drink plenty of water to stay hydrated. It is important to do yoga and physical activities to keep warm and boost immune system, eat nourishing warm food and sleep well.

Joseph Benedict Consulting Engineer
In this nice weather, I feel like gardening. Sowing flower seeds and vegetable seeds and pruning the plants that are already growing in my garden. In the evening, I like to visit coffee shops and spend time with my family or friends to chill out and gossip. We should always take advantage of this weather to also enjoy barbeques on the rooftop.

Tarun Chidambaram, Student
Covid is almost gone and weather like this is the perfect way to embrace the outdoors. Cycling and trekking -- sometimes even in the rain -- feels wonderful for young souls.

Chetan Singh, BM Reader
In this weather, one can put in the extra energy to gym, jog, exercise, go cycling, trekking, etc. Staying fit and healthy is very important.

Work, not in progress for B'luru-Mysuru highway

Land litigations have put the brakes on construction; Mysuru MP writes to NHAI

An empty plot of land where construction has been halted; the disputes are currently being heard in court

The Bengaluru-Mysuru expressway which is touted to be one of the major infrastructural necessities for commuters travelling between the two cities has been met with a number of land disputes and litigations which have put the brakes on the work. Mysuru MP Pratap Simha recently wrote a letter to the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) requesting them to solve the disputes.

Minister of Road Transport and Highways Nitin Gadkari had announced that the 117-km-long 10-lane expressway which connects Bengaluru and Mysuru would be inaugurated in October 2022. But land disputes have held up the work.

The reason?

When the land was acquired in the first package. the land belonged to Bidadi Gram Panchayat. Now the panchayat has been upgraded to that of a municipality, so landowners are demanding higher compensation and also filed petitions in the court. So, the highway work has been delayed, as a result.

To manage the vehicle congestion in Bengaluru-Mysuru expressway, the Central Government started work on expanding NH 275 to 10 lanes two years ago. The work is progressing under two packages. In the first package, 56.2-km road from Kengeri, Bidadi, Ramanagar, Channapatna, and Nidaghatta in Maddur Taluk is being built, and in the second package, 61.4-km road from Mandya, Srirangapatna to Columbia Asia hospital in Mysuru is being developed.

Pratap Simha explained in his letter to NHAI President Alka Upadhyaya about the delay in installing the extra-high tension (EHT) line by KPTCL. Simha said, "I have written a letter to NHAI President requesting to clear the problems aroused due to the land disputes. If these disputes are cleared early, the work will be complete soon and we can inaugurate the expressway for the use of the public. It is essential for public transport."

The work has been halted in Ramanagar Taluk, Kenchanakuppe village in Survey No 197, and in portions of Choramaranahalli and in Survey No 10/1a, 10/1b.

So, what does the highway comprise?

Hailed to be a major developmental boon for citizens, the highway is a promise of easier, faster commuting. Bengaluru-Mysuru National Highway 275 is being developed as a 10-lane expressway.

This includes an 8-km elevated corridor, nine big bridges, 42 small bridges, 64 underpasses, 11 overpasses, four railway bridges, and five bypasses. The 56.2-km stretch from NICE junction to Nidaghatta in Mandya district is almost complete except in some places where the work stopped due to disputes.

Once developed, the corridor will reduce commuting time between the two cities and it will be a premium journey for travellers. – Prakash VL

Acquitted, but found guilty 11 years later

A man acquitted by a trial court in 2011 for offences including abetment of suicide has now been found guilty by the Karnataka High Court, which has sentenced him to seven years of imprisonment.

Shantha, aka Shanthasetty, was acquitted by a trial court in Kollegala in 2011 for offences such as abetment of suicide, intentional insult, voluntarily causing hurt, outraging the modesty of a woman and wrongful restraint.

His quarrel with a woman in the village had forced her to end her life on June 12, 2008. It began when the victim had first quarrelled with Shanthasetty's wife and Shanthasetty then interfered. He dragged the woman by her clothes and assaulted and abused her.

Insulted, the woman set herself on fire. The victim's husband who was nearby, rushed to the spot and with help of villagers, shifted her to a hospital. She succumbed to her injuries on June 17, 2008.

The victim wanted to make a statement before dying. A head constable recorded her statement and registered a case. The doctor treating her was a witness to the dying declaration.

The High Court on May 5, 2022, found that the lower court had based its judgment of acquittal on a hyper-technical essentiality of a doctor's certificate for the fit condition of the victim to give a dying declaration.

"The trial court failed to consider the Hon'ble Supreme Court's judgements which said that the endorsement of the doctor is not required if a person who recorded the dying declaration and the doctor who treated the victim have stated on oath that the deceased was fit to make statement," the High Court said while setting aside the acquittal.

The High Court judgement delivered by Justice S Rachaiah also said that the trial court failed to appreciate the independent witnesses in the case.

The HC sentenced Shanthasetty to seven years simple imprisonment for abetment of suicide, one year imprisonment for intentional insult, one year imprisonment for voluntarily causing hurt, four years imprisonment for outraging the modesty of a woman and four months imprisonment for wrongful restraint.

"All sentences shall run concurrently," the court said. Subsequently, a chargesheet was filed against Shanthasetty under several sections of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) including 306 (abetment of suicide). –PTI

BSY's son may soon enter Cabinet

The stage is all set for former Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa's son BY Vijayendra's entry into the State Cabinet in Karnataka.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Saturday announced that the core committee of the party has decided to recommend the name of Vijayendra for the post of MLC.

Yediyurappa proposed the name of Vijayendra at the core committee meeting.

"We will send his name to the high Command, who will take a call on the matter," Bommai stated. (IANS)

MANGO MAGIC

Indulge a sweet tooth with these easy dishes comprising the king of fruits

INGREDIENTS
- Egg yolk: 3
- Caster sugar: 150 ml
- Mascarpone cheese: 250 gm
- Whipped top cream: 225 gm
- Mango Puree: 150 gm
- Ladyfinger biscuits: 3
- Mango sugar syrup: 50 ml
- Vanilla essence: 10 ml

METHOD

For the cream
- Start by pureeing half a mango in a blender. Mix together the mascarpone cheese, mango puree, and caster sugar. In a separate bowl, beat the cream until it forms stiff peaks. Gently fold the whipped cream into the mascarpone mixture, refrigerate it for about half an hour.

To assemble
- Take the mango sugar syrup. Dip ladyfinger biscuits in the mango syrup for a few seconds, and align them in a baking dish, or in individual cups. Later, add a layer of cream followed by a layer of freshly chopped mangoes. Repeat this step one more time. Later, refrigerate it for 6 hours, preferably overnight. Once set, dust the cocoa powder over it, and enjoy.

MANGO PAVLOVA

INGREDIENTS
- Egg white: 200 gm
- Caster sugar: 400 gm
- Mango essence: 10 ml
- Fresh mango: 200 gm
- White chocolate: 10 gm
- Whipped top cream: 15 gm

METHOD
- Start making meringue with egg white, and caster sugar and set it aside. Add mango essence into the meringue. Make three-inches basket with meringue mixture and bake it at a temperature of 130 degrees Celsius for 30 minutes. Once it's baked, keep it aside to cool down. Melt the white chocolate greased on top of the meringue basket. Beat the whipped cream until it gets stiff, and pipe it into the meringue basket. Finally, arrange the mango slices on top of the basket.

ALPHONSO MINT PANNA COTTA (EGGLESS)

INGREDIENTS
- Amul cream: 1 litre
- Milk: 250 ml
- Mint leaves: 20 gm
- Sugar: 200 gm
- Agar-agar: 20 gm
- Alphonso mango puree: 250 gm
- Vanilla essence: 3 drops

METHOD

Pre-preparation
- Make mango puree: rinse the peel and chop the mangoes. Add the chopped mangoes to a blender and make a smooth puree, later transfer the puree to a bowl and keep it aside. Soak the agar-agar strands in the water, chop the agar-agar strands into small pieces and soak them in water for 15 minutes. Make the cream mixture: in a saucepan mix cream, milk, sugar, and mint leaves, and whisk and stir it continuously. Let the mixture come to a boiling point, and stir till the sugar dissolves. Make agar-agar solution. Keep the agar-agar and the water solution on the stove, and stir the strands till they are completely dissolved.

Preparation
- In a small vessel, add the mango puree, and sugar. Stir and simmer them well and add some lime juice to it. Grease the bowl and add the mango mixture. Later wrap the bowl and refrigerate it. Mix the cream – milk sugar mixture with the agar-agar solution. stir and whisk them well. Wait till the mixture becomes less hot, and this is called panna cotta. Add the mango puree and the vanilla essence at this stage. Again, mix the ingredients well. Pour them into a serving bowl and cover the lid or wrap them with a plastic foil. When the mixture becomes less warm, keep it in the refrigeration to cool for 5 hours. The chilled mango mint panna cotta is ready.

All problems solved

Dear Coleen

I'm an 18-year-old girl and live with my mum and stepdad.
I'm in a really difficult situation because I know she's cheating with another guy - a fellow teacher at the school she works at. He comes over really late sometimes when she thinks I'm asleep, and he's even stayed the night on a couple of occasions and left very early the next morning. My stepdad is away with work a lot, so she has the opportunity.

I feel awful knowing this and feel terrible for my stepdad, but so far I've said nothing about it to my mum.
What should I do?

COLEEN SAYS

I think the first thing you have to do is talk to her about it, ask her what's going on and explain you don't want to be under pressure to keep this a secret from your stepdad. It's not a conversation you ever want to have with your mum, but she needs to step up and take responsibility – it's unfair of her to put you in this situation by conducting her affair at home.
This is also very risky behaviour – it's almost as if she doesn't care if she's found out or maybe unconsciously she wants everything to blow up. Trust me, it's better to face up to this now than be in a situation where your stepdad walks in on them together.

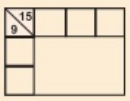
SOLVE IT IN A MINUTE

3 men or 8 boys can do a piece of work in 17 days. How many days will 2 men and 6 boys together take to finish the same work?

Kakuro

The numbers in the grey squares refer to the sums of the digits that you must fill into the empty spaces directly below or to the right of the grey square containing the number. For instance, in the given example, the 3 boxes horizontally next to 15 must contain 3 digits that add up to 15, whereas for 9, it is the 2 boxes placed vertically under it that must add up to 9. No zeros are used here, only the digits 1 through 9.



Note: A digit cannot appear more than once in any particular digit combination. For instance, in the example, we cannot have the combination of 4+7+4 for 15.

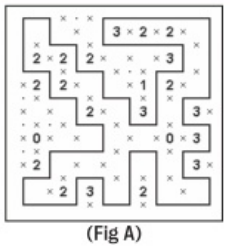
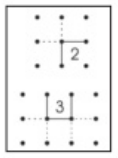
Loop

Rules

» Connect adjacent dots with vertical or horizontal lines, creating a single loop (Fig A). » Crossovers or branches are not allowed (As shown by dotted lines in Fig B). » Numbers in the puzzle indicate the number of lines that should surround it, while empty cells may be surrounded by any number of lines. » You can't draw lines around zeros. » Each puzzle has just one unique solution.



(Fig A)



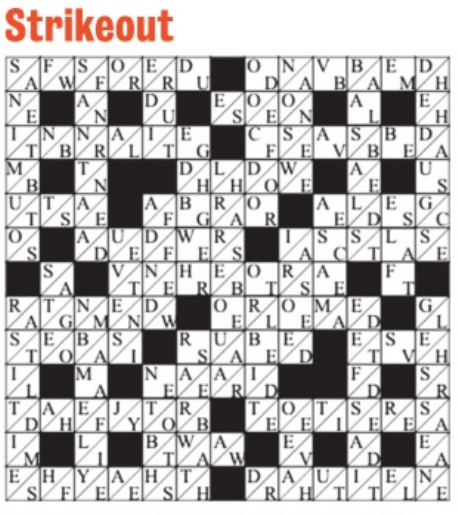
(Fig B) Not Allowed

How to begin:

Example (Fig A) – Begin with the zero next to 3. Since no lines can be drawn around zero, mark crosses around it, as shown. Now there is a cross in one space around 3. So we know the three lines of 3 can only be drawn in the remaining three spaces. Next, these lines can only be extended in one direction each. Continue, using the same logic.

Hints: Keep eliminating possibilities by marking crosses in spaces between dots where a line isn't possible, i.e., if you have already completed required lines or where a line extension may create a branch or cause a dead-end (Fig B)

Strikeout



This crossword has no clues and the answer is there waiting for you. All you have to do is find it in each square. You have a choice of two letters, one of which you must strike out. If you choose correctly, you will be left with a grid that contains real words.

Nervous? A bit

Anushka Sharma opens up about resuming work soon after birth of baby girl

Anushka Sharma, who will next be seen in 'Chakda 'Xpress', recently opened up about resuming work after the birth of her baby girl Vamika.

Talking about her experience of filming for the first time after having a baby, Anushka told a magazine in an interview that she was a part of the inception of 'Chakda 'Xpress'. She was supposed to have worked on it earlier but the film got postponed because of the pandemic and then she got pregnant. The actor added that when she finally began working on it, she was really nervous because she had just had a baby so she wasn't as strong as before. Anushka hadn't trained for 18 months, so she wasn't in the best physical condition. Earlier, she would have really pushed herself to do different exercises in the gym.

Elaborating further, Anushka added that even though she wasn't sure whether to take the project on or not, an inner voice kept telling her to do it. And that's the kind of work she wants to be a part of. The actress stated that she will always be open to doing projects that are interesting and content-forward.

'Chakda 'Xpress' is a biopic on Jhulan Goswami, the former captain of India's national women's cricket team. The film is slated for a release on an OTT platform in February 2023.
